APPEAL
CASE NO.: 20-PA02

DECISION AND ORDER
DECLARING PERSONNEL
ACTION PROVISIONALLY
NULL AND VOID

INTRODUCTION

This matter came before the Commission (CSC) for an Investigation Hearing on July 30, 2020. Present were the Employee represented by Attorney Curtis Van De Veld and Management, Guam International Airport

DECISION AND ORDER
[DECLARING PERSONNEL ACTION NULL AND VOID]
Civil Service Commission [Daniel T.C. Santos] vs. Guam International Airport Authority
Post Audit Appeal Case No.: 20-PA02
Authority (GIAA) represented by Deputy Executive Manager Artemio Hernandez, and Attorney Jay Arriola.

JURISDICTION

The jurisdiction of the Commission is based upon the Organic Act of Guam, 4 GCA, §4401 et al., and relevant portions of the Government of Guam Personnel Rules and Regulations.

FINDINGS OF FACT

On October 4, 2015, Mr. Santos was reassigned from Airport Police Officer I to a Clerk III position pursuant to medical disability. The GIAA has two policies regarding placement that apply to Mr. Santos.

GIAA Personnel Rules and Regulations 4.204, A. Compensation Adjustment Following an Involuntary Demotion states:

"A pay adjustment resulting from an involuntary demotion is effectuated by identifying from the amended pay grade the salary (sub-steps) closest to, but not more than the salary (sub-step) currently being received prior to demotion less an additional six (6) sub-steps. This identifies the new base salary."

[DECLARING PERSONNEL ACTION NULL AND VOID]

Civil Service Commission [Daniel T.C. Santos] vs. Guam International Airport Authority

Post Audit Appeal Case No.: 20-PA02
GIAA Personnel Rules and Regulations, 6.01, A.2 Placement of Employees with Disabilities provides:

“If the disability is not work-related, the employee shall be compensated at the lowest sub-step of the new implementation range of the lower graded position. This identifies the employee’s new base salary.”

Santos is both “involuntarily demoted,” and, “an employee with a disability”. These two policies are in the same set of Personnel Rules and cannot be reconciled with each other. Section 6.101 singles out disabled employees and places them in a lower slot than non-disabled employees who are demoted and slotted by Section 4.204. This clearly discriminates against disabled employees based on their disability. Discrimination on the basis of disability is strictly prohibited by the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 USC 12112 which provides:

“No covered entity shall discriminate against a qualified individual on the basis of disability in regard to ... employee compensation.”

CSC staff concluded that Section 4.204 must be followed because Section 6.101 would be illegal as applied to Mr. Santos. Staff recommended that the personnel action herein based on Section 6.101 should be provisionally null and void.
